"Mil. J. DAVIN' ORGAN.

We" understand that it is proposed among the War Democrats of the Northwest to send a deputation to the organ of Jeff. Davis, in this city, to sak the conductors of that sheet to holds the real fag under which they are doing service, and to abandon the Democratio name. The request is only reasonable, and we doubt not, if it is urged in the proper manner, that it will be gladly compiled with. The presence of loyalty to the Government and the Union under which it did the rebels good service for a year or more, is wholly masters would be much greater if all dis-guises were dropped, and the real pur-poses and objects of the paper proclaimed. We do not wonder that the followers of Jefferson and Jackson are tired of being associated with it and its infances. But if they persever they will succeed; and in

At Liverpool, on the evening of the 16th all, Mr. Beecher made a speech in the Phillemonic Hall. He was much interrupted by the lovers of "freedom of speech," who manifested their Southern sympathy by all sorts of disturbances. His speech in Glagow, on the 18th, is fully reported. We give the following extracts:
